FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR NO. 38

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY AUGUST 25, 1933

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—The following special taxes for state relief purposes were recommended in separate bills to the state legislature late last Thursday by a special joint committee headed by Senator D. J. Gunsett (D), of Van Wert, chairman, after the governor's proposals in part and many other tax bills had been introduced: One-cent cap tax on bottled beverages, including beer, selling for more than five cents, and increase to $1.50 per barrel on bulk beer. Ten cents a pound on gallon on malt, malt syrup or brewers' wort. One cent on every ten cents or fraction thereof on amusement admission fees of 15 cents or more. Ten per cent on cosmetics, with changes from the present law. The House adopted the bill providing for the one-cent cap tax on beverages Friday forenoon, decisively defeating an amendment to make the tax one-half cent. Final action was not expected before the middle of this week on the new tax measures, which are designed to raise $8,500,000 and make possible the use of a large federal appropriation for public works. The legislature met in special session August 16, when Governor White appeared before the body and presented five taxation plans for state relief, the so-called No. 3 plan receiving immediate consideration. The governor promised to submit a plan for school aid only after a relief measure was adopted.

A seventh distribution of motor vehicle license revenue as of August 5 was announced last Thursday by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. The amount allocated to the various counties and incorporated municipalities this time was $285,908.40. A distribution of $500 to each of the 88 counties was also made under the five per cent equalization fund which the law provides for. The total distribution this year from this latter fund to each county is $9,500. Cleveland received the largest sum of any city, its total this distribution being $9,571.26, making a total of $535,760 for the year to date. The total revenue for the first seven months of 1933 amounted to $16,947,207.10, of which $12,844,089.64 had been distributed to the various municipalities and counties and the balance to the state maintenance and repair fund. The seventh distribution of motor vehicle license funds this year compares with five made up to this time a year ago.

To the growing effectiveness of the NRA program by increasing employment is credited the larger number of accidents in Ohio industries during July, according to a bulletin issued by Supt. Thos. P. Kearns of the Division of Safety and Hygiene, Department of Industrial Relations. The number of claims filed with the Industrial Commission in July was 12,999, which was 1,095 more than were filed the preceding month and 1,957 more than the record for July, 1932. The July total was also the largest filed for any one month since December, 1931. There were fewer fatalities in July, however, than usual, the number, 79, being three fewer than in June and six fewer than in July a year ago. As an indication of the industrial trend, both fatal and non-fatal mishaps mounted in the manufacturing groups, whereas in the past two years frequency and severity predominated in commercial, clerical and professional lines.

Beer will not be sold at the state fair this year but there will be pari-mutuel machines in operation at the racing. This was decided at a meeting of the fair board last Wednesday. The explanation given for barring beer was that contracts for soft drink concessions had been signed for a long period, and it would be unfair to these concessionaires to allow beer to be sold. On the other hand, betting cannot be stopped at races, and it should be conducted according to law if allowed at all, was the reason given for permitting the betting devices.

Announcement is made that the forty-third annual Ohio Welfare Conference will be held this year at Cleveland, October 2, 3 and 4. This gathering attracts hundreds of welfare workers from all parts of the state and will be unusually important this year. Six study courses, all of them to be conducted by experts from outside of the state except one, have been arranged. Course E, on the subject, "The Juvenile Court at Work," will be conducted by Henry J. Robinson, Judge of Probate and Juvenile Courts of Portage county, Ravenna, and former president of the Ohio Probation Association.

Former Cedarvillian's Son, Thumb Victim

The Cincinnati Times-Star gives an account of the hold-up, Friday of Ned Sullenberger, 24, Oxford drug clerk, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Graft Sullenberger, Oxford, former residents of this place.

Ned Sullenberger, 24, clerk at the Oxford drug store, was held up on the road, Friday evening, and the car he was driving and money from his pockets were taken by two well-dressed young men who had "thumbed" a ride.

Sullenberger had started to Hamilton to meet a friend, Richmond Gummaras, driving a coupe belonging to the latter, when, just outside the village limits, as he was slowing up to pass a truck, the two men signaled for a ride. Before the car was stopped one jumped on the running board and thrust an automatic pistol against Sullenberger's side, telling him to drive slowly. After the other man had climbed into the other side of the car and drawn a gun, the first also got in and Sullenberger was taken down a side road six miles south of Oxford and commanded to stop near a bridge.

Muffled in a rain coat, with his hands tied behind him, he was left under the bridge. Before the robbers left they returned $1.20 for bus fare home and said that the car would probably be left in Cincinnati.

Sullenberger was able to free himself and returned on foot, over a mile, to McGonigle Station, where he telephoned the sheriff's office and notified the owner of the car, who drove from Hamilton and brought him home.

Sullenberger said the men were about thirty or thirty-five years of age, well-dressed and talked as though well educated.

Safety Council For Greene County

Organization of a Greene county safety council to be affiliated with the national safety council will be investigated by a committee of 11 named at a safety meeting, held in Xenia.

The committee members are: Dr. Marshall Best, representing the Greene County Medical society; John Baldwin, representing garages operating wrecking cars; Ralph M. Neid, representing ambulance operators; Oliver Bolden, secretary of the Greene County Auto club; H. C. Aufmann, county school superintendent; H. W. Walsh, division state highway engineer; L. A. Davis, of the sheriff's office; municipal court, Judge E. D. Smith; Peter Shagin, motorcycle policeman; City Manager M. S. Smith and P. W. Frame, publicity director.

Dr. R. R. McCellan, surgeon, told the meeting that misguided helpers, rushing accident victims to hospitals, often did more harm than good and frequently caused fatalities, because in most cases it was better not to move the injured person until a doctor arrives. Garages were urged to notify the police and sheriff's office of accident reports and ambulance operators and doctors were urged to equip their cars with sirens. Chief of Police O. H. Cornwell exhibited the accident spot map at police headquarters and made the statement that only one-third of accidents now are reported.

COUNTY DEBT ON DECLINE

Greene County's total public indebtedness amounted to $1,755,488 at the beginning of this year. At the close of 1931 the amount was $1,771,661 showing a gain of $16,173 in the state-wide battle to cut down debts and interest.

Only six counties in Ohio failed to reduce public indebtedness during 1932 according to advance data from Auditor of State, J. T. Tracy's annual report for that period.

This county's obligations embrace debts of county, $147,680; cities, $273,600; villages, $218,342; townships, $266; schools, $1,115,600.

There are many matters of local interest in the annual report of the Auditor of State, which will later be available in book form at all county and village offices, libraries, newspaper offices and elsewhere.

This production of nearly 500 pages of statistical and historical matters of state and local political subdivisions contains all the statements and exhibits necessary to complete comprehension of the financial transactions of the state, counties, municipalities and schools.

From the advance data provided this paper by the State Auditor's office, the following notes of direct local interest are gleaned.

This county paid $16,681.95 inheritance tax to the state in 1932, as against $8,092.10 in 1931.

Cigarette Tax, state's portion from county, 1932, $1,107.10; 1931, $3,113.41.

Dog and Kennel Fund, receipts for year, $5,050.00; payments for damages, $1,925.20; licenses issued, male dogs, 2345; female, 688.

Ohio Publishers' Body Found In River

The body of Fred S. Wallace, 61, editor and publisher of the Coshocton Tribune, was found Tuesday by campers in the Muskingum river two miles below Coshocton. There were cuts over the right eye and ear and the body weighted down with a plow point and a hammer under his belt. His legs were bound with wire.

Wallace was last seen early Sunday morning by his circulation manager just after the Sunday morning paper had gone to press. He had left valuables in his desk other than his watch. He had not been in good health for some time.

Wallace was born near Springfield and was city editor of the Springfield Sun before going to Coshocton 20 years ago. He leaves a widow and two sons.

Local Schools Open Sept. 5th

The Cedarville Board of Education has set Tuesday, September 5, 9:00 a. m., as the opening day for the Cedarville Public Schools. School will remain in session until 2:00 p. m.

At 9 o'clock grade pupils will go to their rooms and all high school students will assemble in the auditorium for the special opening exercises. There will be a speaker, the name to be announced later. Parents are cordially invited to attend.

In the afternoon all high school classes will meet in order to discover any conflicts that may exist; followed by a faculty meeting. The elementary teachers will also work out their respective programs.

The buses will return at 2:00 p. m. All pupils should bring their lunch. The book room will be open from 2:30 until 4:30 on Tuesday (Sept. 5) and all day on Wednesday, if necessary. Thereafter, during the first week the book room will be open from 9:00 to 10:00 and 1:00 to 2:00.

All pupils, both grades and high school are requested not to purchase any used books until after they come to school. There will be a few changes this year in text-books. During the past four years the Board of Education has been extremely careful about making too many changes in order to keep the outlay for books as low as possible for the parents.

There are some books, however, that need to be replaced with more up to date and revised editions in order that we may give our pupils the best advantages. These changes will be made only where it is considered most necessary. All old books will be accepted with a liberal allowance on the revised books which will lower the cost considerably.

A price list will be sent home with the pupils on the first day. The parents are urged to look over this list and either send the money or come with their children on the following day. This especially applies to pupils in the lower grades. Please do not ask for credit.

RAZOR VICTIM DIED TUESDAY BARBER HELD

James Baker, colored, 56, victim of razor slashes on Sunday, August 13, when cut by Gilbert McCoy, barber, died at 1 a. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Doshia Stewart, where he was removed following the cutting.

Baker is survived by three brothers, David and Joe of Detroit, and Clark of this place. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon from the Baptist church, with burial in the Stevenson Cemetery.

Drs. M. I. Marsh and Harold Ray performed a post mortem examination Tuesday to determine the cause of his death. He had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage following the cutting which affected his entire left side.

McCoy was bound over to the grand jury by Mayor Richards on a charge of cutting with intent to kill. Coroner R. L. Haines conducted an inquiry with a number of witnesses Wednesday and his decision will no doubt have a bearing as to the kind of a charge the grand jury will consider against McCoy.

The story following the cutting was that McCoy had made threats against Baker, who he charged had reported as having violated a parole order that caused McCoy to serve a second term in the county jail. McCoy was said to have boasted before witnesses that he intended to get Baker, just a short time before the cutting. Another is that when the two met that afternoon Baker struck McCoy with a stick.

Coroner R. L. Haines has rendered a verdict that Baker died from natural causes after hearing the report of Drs. Marsh and Ray and examining some fifteen witnesses.

It is likely that the charge of cutting with intent to kill will stand against McCoy until the grand jury takes action.

TEN PER CENT WERE NOT NEEDING MONEY
June first the first dividend of the Exchange Bank under liquidation was payable to depositors. We learn from a reliable source that fully ten per cent have not yet called for their dividend checks. Inasmuch as most people can use money during the present economic disaster, those comprising the ten per cent must find themselves in a different situation.

If an announcement were to be made that no more dividends would be paid it is likely that many of the ten per cent would make loud complaint. However if you have not drawn your dividend do so at once.

MUTTERING IN FARM CIRCLES

For months back there have been some ugly reports in circulation about certain state farm leaders that have caused no little comment. Let a man that figures in politics have smutty fingers and it will not be long until his imprint can be found with everything he is connected. The farm situation has been greatly muddled and in a number of cases the organizations have had to stand for the double-crossing of the state leaders that were selling out the influence of the organization for private profit.

Several years ago the writer picked up a piece of news while in Columbus and following the lead discovered that one prominent farm leader was on the pay roll of interests that most farmers were opposing. Of course they were trusting to the honesty of the leader and knew nothing different.

The late O. E. Bradford while serving the American Farm Bureau Federation reported we must have been misinformed. The interlocking coverup system adopted by the farm leaders could not be penetrated even by the president of the national organization.

As time passed the farm leaders that were farming the farmer became the bolder. More than one event took place that carried with it positive proof. To the credit of the late Mr. Bradford following his retirement, he admitted to the writer that our first report was correct, but he could not at the time get first hand information.

RAILROAD BITING OWN HAND

We can hardly agree with all that the Ohio State Journal has to say editorially about an Ohio town that sent its high school band to the Century of Progress Exposition in a school bus. The bus was owned by the school district and no doubt the band was transported at a cost of oil and gasoline, which was under railroad care.

The point the Journal makes is that the railroad company probably paid most of the taxes in the district where the payroll of railroad men reached $3,000,000 annually. In view of these facts, the Journal presents good argument in support of the railroad.

The other side of the question is that most of the railroads now own the big bus lines that use the highways, thus giving themselves competition and at the same time crowding out others who could make a living in the same way. From the standpoint of the automobile owner, he is taxed the heaviest in license tax and with gasoline and oil to build and maintain highways. With the railroads in the bus business using the highways for freight and passenger business, as we see it little complaint can be made because some board of education used a school bus to transport the school band to Chicago.

If we were to offer a suggestion the remedy for relief for the railroads is lower freight rates and passenger fares, with a little less high priced train service. The railroad companies are trying to operate under high fares to cater to a rich class and overlooking the opportunity of getting the business of the middle class that is using the highways.

KEEP THE AUTOMOBILE FIT

The old rule, "be sure you're right, then go ahead," could be profitable adopted, it would seem, by many motorists with the change, "be sure your car is right, then go ahead." Mechanical failure is given as one of the chief causes of automobile accidents. One competent authority estimates that 10 per cent of the 1,060,520 automobiles involved in accidents last year were so defective mechanically that accidents could not be avoided.

It is often said that the car is no better than the driver, and the reverse of this to some extent, is true. The driver is not better than his car. When it has defective brakes, bad tires, poor headlights and an unresponsive engine or any of these defects, it is not a safe car to drive in heavy traffic, the requirements of which demand ease and certainty in operation. The best of drivers operate under heavy handicaps in such cases, and frequently come to grief.

The prevailing prices of automobiles, both new and used, are such that any person who drives a car can have a safe car for comparatively little money. If cars cannot be repaired at reasonable cost, it is one's duty to turn them over to the wrecker or trade them in for new or used machines.

To drive them when they are a menace to traffic means taking a long chance on one's own and others' safety.

GET YOUR INFORMATION DIRECT

It is evident that the public in general is not fully acquainted with the workings of the Home Loan Owners Corporation. Various reports have been published and in circulation as to what can be expected. From what we have learned it is going to be safest to avoid disappointment by getting your information first hand after presenting your claim for consideration. Do not build castles on expectations until you have the final answer.

Many people have a wrong impression as to what will be granted by the new corporation that was formed to give relief to home owners in distress. Those who default on mortgage loan interest, taxes, etc., since June 13, 1933, are going to find it hard to have their loan re-written.

Home owners who are obligated to closed banks are to be cared for so far as their claims can be handled by Corporation. Both the state banking department and building and loan department in this state are cooperating with the new federal company.

VACATION PERIOD NEARING END

Thousands of young boys and girls will return to school within the next ten days or two weeks. It is to be hoped they have had a pleasant vacation even though there has been what appeared to be hardship in labor. The boy or girl that has had employment of some kind will likely return to school better fitted to take up studies than those who have not had their minds centered on anything other than pleasure.

Many will enter high school for the first time and this is to be an important event in their lives for we have now reached the stage where the boy or girl in after life will find it hard to get any kind of a position or responsibility that has not graduated from high school. The highway is before you and you alone must make the best of your opportunities, for it will be the highway selected now that will lead you to worthwhile things in after-life. Keep up your high school work until the course is completed and you have graduated.

Now that we are to have a tax on amusements, suppose after the show you decide it was not in that class, can you expect a refund of the tax?

The oil code now under trial provides for fixing both the base price of gasoline as well as the retail price.

The first month containing the letter "R" is nearing so that lovers of the bi-valve have not long to wait.

The test of the new deal will fall on the leadership of financial and industrial ability to survive the depression.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why a King Failed.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Successes and Failures of Saul.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Strength and Weakness of Saul.

Few men had greater advantages than Saul. Certainly all human history fails to record a more tragic failure. In order to present this lesson properly, it is necessary that the teacher have a synthetic grasp of Saul's history.

I. Saul's Advantages.

1. A worthy inheritance (9:1). His father was "a mighty man of power." One's inheritance is a strong factor in determining his success or failure in life.

2. His natural gifts (9:2). When facing the responsibility of national leadership he hid himself.

3. He was a considerate father (9:3). Not being successful in the mission committed unto him and thinking that his father would be concerned about him, he proposed to go back.

4. The grace of God was upon him (10:5-7). God visited him with his grace to enable him to perceive the divine purpose and to make good in it.

5. The Holy Spirit came upon him (10:10). Acceptable service can only be rendered in the energy of the Holy Spirit.

6. He was zealous for God (11:4-15). As leader he rendered loyal service unto his people because of zeal for God. 7. The friendship of Samuel (15:35). Samuel not only was loyal to Saul in the time of his life, but greatly mourned his death.

8. Saul made King (chaps. 8-10). 1. The demand of the people (8:1-2). The reason for this demand was threefold:

a. Incapacity of old age (v. 5). This was at least the plea of the people, which seems not to have been denied.

b. The unfaithfulness of his sons (v. 5). Samuel greatly blundered in the appointment of his sons as judges. The office was not hereditary, and they were morally unfit (v. 8).

c. Desired to be like other nations (v. 5). The surrounding nations had strong leaders and rulers, and it was natural that the Israelites should desire proper leadership. Samuel protested, and took the matter to the Lord in prayer. The Lord directed him to solemnly point out to the people the meaning of their action.

2. Saul chosen as King (9:1-11). While on an errand for his father, Samuel found him and anointed him. In doing this the divine choice was confirmed by the people at Mizpah (10:17-27).

3. Saul's leadership displayed (11:1-15). He revealed his military genius in effecting a great victory over the Ammonites at Jabesh. Samuel took advantage of this opportunity to have Saul confirmed as King.

4. Saul's Failure (15:1-25). 1. God's command (vv. 1-3). God directed him to utterly destroy the Amalekites because of their evil treatment of Israel (Exod. 17:8; Deut. 25:17).

2. Saul's disobedience (vv. 4-9). Agag, the king, was spared and the best of the goods appropriated.

3. Saul rejected by God (vv. 10-25). a. Samuel cried to God (v. 11). The news of Saul's disgraceful failure greatly disturbed Samuel, leading him to pray to God day and night.

b. Saul's hypocritical pretense (vv. 15, 16). This pretense carried a life upon its face. His disobedience was revealed by the bleating of the sheep and the howling of the herds.

c. Samuel rebuked before Saul God's dealing with him (vv. 17-23). He brought him face to face with his sin. God is more concerned with having obedience on the part of his servants than he is to have them offer sacrifices unto him.

IV. The Divine Judgment Falls Upon Saul (15:26-35). 1. The loss of his kingdom (vv. 26-31). For the presumptuous offering of sacrifice the kingdom was rent from Saul and the dynasty passed from his house.

2. Under the control of an evil spirit (19:9-11). When Saul refused obedience to God, Satan took control of him.

3. His shameful death (31:1-4). He refused to destroy the Amalekites and was shamefully treated by an Amalekite (II Sam. 1:10), and ended his life by his own hand.

Prayer

No resolution or, better, no determination you can make will mean so much in wonderful results as to determine that you will pray more than ever, that you will pray longer and more widely and deeply in the closet hours at a time to do it, that you will have a worthwhile daily family worship, and that you will really pray in church service. Real praying breath turns to mighty steam power, to radio messages farther than you dream, to results immeasurable.

The 4-H clubs not only in Ohio but other states are doing an excellent thing in forming excursions to the Century of Progress in Chicago for members. If you could see the scores of delegations of these young boys and girls on the exposition grounds it would do your heart good. These young people are having the time of their lives. They will see more in one day and remember more of what they have seen than a half dozen of their elders. It will be one of the high spots of their young lives and each returns home with a broader vision of life and what the world has in store for them. Were it only possible that more of them could see the great exposition.

Many counties have been infested with the "slot-machine" evil, and recently Prosecutor Marcus McCallister sent out a warning that such would not be permitted to operate in this county. Sheriff John Baughn has made a canvass of the county and failed to locate a single machine. He had been given orders to confiscate and destroy all illegal machines.

Reports out of Cleveland say that Dave Ingalls, one time Republican candidate for governor, is being groomed for national committeeman from Ohio. If this is the case it can be taken for granted that the young, rich and aggressive Dave is not to be regarded as a candidate again next year.

An unusual brand of legislation is now up for consideration in Dayton. One ordinance provides that owners of dogs must have a special frame-work on the side of cars for dogs or else let them ride on the inside. The objection is allowing dogs to ride between the fenders and the hood and also on running boards. The next concerns the sale of baby chicks. It will be unlawful to sell baby chicks in less than half dozen lots. About Easter time baby chicks are sold to children who fondle them to death or after the affection disappears, allow them to die for want of care.

The news dispatches brings us the sad news of a publisher friend, Fred S. Wallace, editor of the Coshocton Tribune, who disappeared Sunday morning and has not been seen since. He had been in ill health for some time but was able to be at his office daily. The authorities have organized for a county-wide search. Mr. Wallace was formerly a Springfield newspaper man.

Illinois has an unusual state banking law, something different than most states. An owner of bank stock never knows when his responsibility ceases even though he may sell the stock. In some states liability ceases after the stock has been sold two, four or six months. That state has been having about the same experience in bank closing other states have had. Now many former owners of bank stock are being called upon for the double liability. We learn of one suit against a former owner for double liability though he sold the stock sixteen years ago and has had no financial connection with the bank since that time. Such laws are unreasonable and will tend to keep responsible people from ever owning bank stock.

Five early Ohio newspaper men have been nominated for the Journalism Hall of Fame, conducted by the School of Journalism of Ohio State University.

Balloting by 72 Ohio publishers will be ended Sept. 1. Each publisher will vote for two names and nominees receiving two-thirds of the vote will be elected.

The nominees are: Joseph W. Gray, 1813-1862, founder of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

James Wilson, 1787-1852, owner of the Steubenville Gazette and Western Herald, and grandfather of Woodrow Wilson.

Moses Dawson, 1769-1844, editor of the Cincinnati Advertiser, now the Enquirer.

William Isaac Chamberlain, 1837-1920, associate editor of the Ohio Farmer.

Richard F. Outcalt, 1863-1928, born in Lancaster, reporter on the Cincinnati Enquirer, later nationally known cartoonist and originator of the "Buster Brown" comic strip.

The writer of this column has been asked to vote his choice on the list of nominees.

The story of the inside of the Detroit bank scandal which brought about a bank holiday first in that state and then the entire country, is now being told before a grand jury in that city. It is a revelation of about the rottenest situation that can be imagined. Some very prominent government officials, Senator Couzens of that state and bank officials have been heard. In as much as former president Herbert Hoover's name has been connected with the scandal using official power to aid the wreckers in covering up, county officials decided Monday to call the former president to give testimony. Nothing ever happened in the history of banking in this country that compares with the Detroit situation.

Supporters of the prohibition and the eighteenth amendment were no doubt much surprised this week in the announcement of Billy Sunday, that he was through preaching prohibition sermons, and would return to the preaching of the gospel. His physical condition no longer warrants such campaigns. He predicts the early repeal of the eighteenth amendment. In a canvass of the repeal movement where states have voted, it looks like repeal is certain before the end of the year. Enough states have set times for elections to warrant such prediction. As the necessary fourteen states will go to the polls, who already have 22 at this time. The disappointment among the dregs has been the attitude of western and southern states. Not a single state has gone dry.

One of the greatest steps of progress in the operation of city street cars with streets crowded with motor cars is the new "trackless trolley" that has been introduced in many cities. The "trackless trolley" is patterned much after the style of the street car or is an enlarged bus that is driven by electric power from overhead trolley wires. They skim over the streets in a noiseless manner and swing to the curb to take on and discharge passengers. No street car tracks are necessary and this leaves the center of the street clear for automobile traffic.

The legislature is fighting this week over the proposed new taxes for relief. Several suggestions were sent to the legislature by Gov. White but various interests are trying to keep the tax off themselves and place it on someone else. The so-called relief work in Ohio is nothing more than a Chicago racket the way it has been handled. It is chicken and gravy for the politicians and salt pork, beans and dry bread for the unfortunate. The governor was repudiated on the sales tax at the last session and now comes out for a selected sales tax covering a long list of articles, most of which are household necessities. The governor so far is making little progress and by his attitude in not insisting in a reduction of state government, is contributing much to the standpoint of the manufacturer and the retailer. Each dollar collected from the consumer for taxes is just that much less for painting or repairing the home that would give some of the unemployed an opportunity to make a living.

The petition signed by 300 Springfield Valley school district residents asking for transfer of about 3,000 acres of land to a Clinton county district, and presented to the Greene County Board of Education for approval, should receive careful consideration by the board. Because some division has arisen between patrons over the six-six plan for operation of the school should be no just reason why the tax duplicate of the county should be reduced, and approval of the transfer, means that. What the county wants is an increased tax duplicate by addition of land from other counties. Reducing the duplicate without just cause would only throw a heavier burden on what real estate remains that would be subject to the school tax. We are sure most of the taxpayers of the county will object to the transfer. The county has been good enough for these school patrons in the long years of the past, and should be good enough today.

Budget For County Schools Prepared

Greene County Board of Education has tentatively approved a budget for 1934 calling for $3,420. This represents an increase of $306 over the board's budget requests totaling $3,114 for this year.

The lower budget sought this year was made possible by a substantial treasury balance. Board members explained a larger sum will be needed next year because a similar big balance no longer exists.

Fess Says We Must Be Patriotic Now

Senator S. D. Fess entertained members of the Xenia Rotary Club Springs. He gave a talk on conditions as they exist today in this country and predicted we have enough men of vision to win the fight against the depression but it remained for each citizen to show his patriotism by backing the recovery program that we may be brought back to prosperity.

CAN DETERMINE SEX OF DAY-OLD CHICKS

Keen eyesight and nimble fingers may be as important to the poultry man as his knowledge of rations, in the future, should a system of sex determination now being introduced in Japan gain favor in America.

Mr. Yogo, Japanese scientist, startled poultry experts recently at the International Baby Chick Association convention at Grand Rapids, Michigan, by determining the sex of one-day-old baby chicks in six and a half minutes, without an error.

Skeptical poultry experts, after Mr. Yogo had completed his demonstration, opened the chicks and through post mortem examinations checked upon the accuracy of the determinations.

Practical application of the Japanese system is seen in the savings that may be effected by destroying the male chicks, which eat quite as much as the female chicks, before their uselessness is exposed by development of mannish characteristics. In the case of Leghorns, which are of little value as broilers, this is said to be an important item.

With the heavier breeds, the male chicks may be disposed of to broiler producing plants. Saving on brooding equipment is a third possible benefit.

It is not expected that the Japanese method will gain immediate favor in America. Mr. Yogo explains that his expertness has been developed over a period of years, and that Canadian students at the University of British Columbia were able, after considerable coaching, to attain only 75 per cent of accuracy.

Statistics furnished by the electric power and light companies covering in full the month of June have been received by E. H. Heathman, manager for the Xenia district of the Dayton Power and Light Company. Some interesting figures are disclosed in a statement made public by Mr. Heathman.

His statement in full is as follows: "Data covering the light and power industry for the month of June 1933 as compared with the same month in 1932 shows sales to ultimate consumers increased 11.6 per cent this year as against June of 1932, but it is interesting to observe at the same time and with this increase in mind, that the total revenue from ultimate consumers, comparing the same two months of the same two years, showed a decrease. As a plain matter of fact, what these figures do show is that actually there was a loss of $29,000 in revenue from customers despite the fact that the kilowatt hours of electricity sold increased this June over last June by $81,076,000. At a time when much is being said in the country about why electric rates do not come down, these figures, which represent very accurate research among light and power companies, would seem to demonstrate beyond question or doubt that there has been a decided decrease in electric rates to ultimate consumers. Otherwise, with the increased usage of electricity representing 11.6 per cent, there would not be less revenue obtained from the ultimate consumers. A factor that has entered into this falling-off in revenue is directly attributable to lower rates put into effect by light and power companies. What is true in the national figures is practically true so far as The Dayton Power and Light Company is concerned. Comparing June of 1932 with 1933, an increase in kilowatt hours sold of 31 per cent is disclosed by the local utility, whereas the increased revenue despite this increase in consumption of electric energy of 31 per cent, is only 3 per cent.

"The electric industry in good times and in bad times is obliged to maintain its facilities at 100 per cent, thus being prepared for the greatest maximum load demand upon its service. In rather recent days, there has been an appreciable increase in the cost of coal and coal is a permanent factor in the most of generation of electric energy."

"A chart just finished by our company's statisticians in Dayton shows that the cost of living is still 25.7 per cent above that of 1915, while the domestic average electric rate per kilowatt hour today is 30.9 per cent below the 1915 cost to the customer. Constantly increasing taxation levied against public utilities, in which The Dayton Power and Light Company has shared, shows that taxes to be paid by The Dayton Power and Light Company during the next twelve months in a support of Federal, State and local governments will take twelve cents out of every dollar paid by customers for services rendered by the local utility. In other words, one-eighth of every bill paid goes to the support of government of some kind. It is estimated that during the ensuing year, The Dayton Power and Light Company will pay over $1,216,000.00 in taxes. If this were equally divided among all customers of the company, it would amount to more than 96c a month, or $11.60 per year per customer. Public utilities, in fact, have become tax-collecting agencies for government, and while the industry recognizes that government can be supported only through revenues received through taxation, utilities, while they are glad to assist in governmental support, feel that there should be more of a sense of fairness exercised in respect to their operation."

LOCAL DELEGATION HEARS HOME LOAN EXPLAINED

Members of the Cedarville Building and Loan Association met with members of the Home and People's Association, Xenia, in the Federal Building, Wednesday evening, when Mr. Thomas Dye, head of the Federal Home Loan Corporation in this district, explained the new law and the operation of the corporation.

Mr. Dye, who has had a long experience in real estate and insurance in Urbana, presented the plan in a clear and concise manner. He gave light on many points that have been misunderstood both by building and loans and banks and the public.

The first object of the law is to give relief to property owners that were facing foreclosure or financially destitute on June 13, 1933, when the law became effective. Loans will be paid in bonds issued by the corporation which run for eighteen years, backed by the property. The interest on the bond is guaranteed by the government. The property owner must meet certain requirements as to interest, taxes and upkeep. Mr. Dye made it plain that no loans would be made to those not in distress for no other reason than to get cheap money.

Federal laws govern operation of the corporation and penalties are provided in cases of fraud.
